

PROFILE PAGE

OJOGBEDE ADEWALE KAYODE

Ojogbede Adewale Kayode, is a proactive and dynamic public health professional. He holds a Bachelor's degree in Microbiology from University of Ibadan (2008), a Master's degree in Public Health (MPH, Epidemiology) (2016) and currently running Ph.D (Epidemiology) in Obafemi Awolowo University Ile-Ife.

He has a wealth of experience working on HIV with a number of NGDO's which include: Equitable Health Access Initiative (EHAI), a subsidiary of Institute of Human Virology, Nigeria (IHVN) as Technical Officer; Monitoring & Evaluation Officer with Action-Plus Up project, and Wellbeing Foundation Africa (WBFA).

He was a Team Lead in the Nigeria AIDS Indicator and Impact Survey from May to December, 2018 where Maryland Global Initiative Corporation (MGIC) was the Implementing Partner (IP). He is currently a Research Fellow and member of the Health Policy and Systems Research group in the Public Health and Epidemiology Department of Nigeria Institute of Medical Research.